

REPORTING AND SUPPORT OPTIONS

The College is committed to maintaining an environment free from illegal discrimination and sexual misconduct, including and not limited to, sexual assault, sexual harassment, intimate partner violence, stalking and sexual exploitation. A detailed list and description can be found in the Discrimination, Harassment and Sexual Misconduct Policy. You may speak with any of the resources below at any time - reporting is always an option. Choosing one path does not exclude other options. Pursue the option(s) that you feel will be most helpful for you and your recovery.

Script - THREE THINGS TO MENTION WHEN YOU KNOW A PERSON IS ABOUT TO DISCLOSE: 1.) I am sorry that happened to you. OR It sounds like you are about to tell me something personal. 2.) I am required to report this for your safety. 3.) You may request confidentiality from the institution. You may make the confidentiality request with a Title IX Coordinator.

Please refer to the back of this sheet for detailed information on these reporting resources and the confidentiality parameters of each.

REPORTING AND SUPPORT OPTIONS: Confidentiality Considerations

PGCC Wellness Center

PGCC Police and PGC Police Department

The Prince George's Community College Campus Police provides 24-hour emergency services. Individuals can also call 911 for 24-hour emergency services from the PG County Police Department.

Title IX Coordinator(s)

Title IX Coordinators oversee investigations involving sexual harassment and sexual misconduct. Title IX Coordinators also ensure compliance and implementation of college policy and procedures.

Affirmative Action Officer

The affirmative action officer is a Title IX designated reporting authority and is responsible for the timely investigation and resolution of all sexual harassment, sexual misconduct, and discrimination complaints involving college employees.

Executive Director of Human Resources

The Executive Director of Human Resources is a Title IX designated reporting authority and is responsible for the timely investigation and resolution of all sexual harassment, sexual misconduct, and discrimination complaints involving college employees, including enforcement of personnel actions for policy infractions.

PGCC Staff & Faculty

Most employees are required to report to the Title IX Coordinator(s) what they learn of sexual harassment and sexual misconduct. S/he will provide information and resources to individual disclosing, and can help connect you to a confidential source.

PG Hospital Center DV/SAC (*confidential resource)

The Prince George's Hospital Center Domestic Violence Sexual Assault Center (DV/SAC) operates 24/7 and provides advocacy, crisis intervention and counseling services. Students can go to the Prince George's Hospital Center for medical assistance. A police report is not required to receive medical assistance. The Wellness Center can provide health services and referrals.

A sexual assault exam is available at the DV/SAC. The exam includes preventative treatment for sexually transmitted infections, pregnancy and evidence collection. The exam is conducted by a Sexual Assault Forensic Examiner (SAFE) who is a Registered Nurse with advance training and certification in conducting sexual assault exams.

A rape kit and examination can be done for free at the DV/SAC at Prince George's Hospital Center. Anonymous or "Jane Doe" kits are available.

House of Ruth (*confidential services available)

The House of Ruth Maryland provides comprehensive services to victims of intimate partner violence. Agency services include 24-hr hotline, safe shelter, individual and group counseling for adult victims and their children, childcare and youth services, client services coordination, legal advocacy and representation, community outreach, training and education and abuser intervention services. Bilingual services are available for Latino clients.

Family Justice Center (*confidential services available)

Family Justice Center provides coordinated services for victims of abuse and their children in a convenient one-stop setting near the Courthouse. The Center brings together services from 19 providers to help abuse victims and their children in a single facility. Services include safety planning, counseling, legal assistance, and social services to help victims of domestic violence, child abuse, sexual assault, human trafficking, teen relationship violence, and elder abuse.

Academic Accommodations

Student Conduct & Community Standards

The Student Conduct & Community Standards program provides information and can assist with academic accommodations and campus administrative process and hearing procedures.
